Brilliant Ways to Add Wallpaper

TO YOUR SPACE

Get ready to step outside of your comfort zone with wallpaper that can give your space an attractive new look.

Take pattern play to a new level with these thoughtful ideas.

STORIED WALLPAPER

As Gail Davis proves, wallpaper can bring a personal touch to any project. “This room is dedicated to my mother, who is a breast cancer survivor,” she explains. “I designed it with the intent of renewal for anyone going through treatment. The wallpaper spoke to our Senegalese roots and paired well with Benjamin Moore’s First Light, as an homage to breast cancer awareness.”

CONTRASTING WALLPAPER

Want to take your wallpaper to the next level? Designer Fran Keenan paired this marble-patterned style with bright blue trim.

RIPPLED WALLPAPER

If stripes and florals feel played out, spice up your space with a rippled design. Lucy Harris gave this idea a cool, retro spin using a teal-and-white palette with matte black accents.

NEUTRAL WALLPAPER

For wallpaper that can withstand the test of time, Stefani Stein kept it simple with a subtle pattern in a neutral palette.

COORDINATING WALLPAPER

If you want to add some drama, do what Bella Mancini did and match the wallpaper to the furniture upholstery.

STENCILED WALLPAPER

A dainty, stenciled wallpaper can strike a brilliant balance between subtle and statement. Let Danielle Fennoy of Revamp show you how it's done.

DECONSTRUCTED WALLPAPER

Now this is an innovative way to apply wallpaper. Porter Teleo collaborated with Jean-Louis Deniot on a custom pattern for the dressing room of an Upper East Side townhouse, as seen between the molding.

LANDSCAPE-INSPIRED WALLPAPER

The dining room of a classic Connecticut home features chairs designed by Richard Rogers and Renzo Piano, a custom-made table, and an 18th-century pine commode from Vermont. The landscape-inspired, hand-painted wall covering is by Gracie, and the rug is by Holland & Sherry.

MULTICOLORED WALLPAPER

Nick Olsen brought a Hollywood spirit to this Cincinnati home with bold pops of color. “I love high style mixed with something ordinary or strange,” he told ELLE Decor. “My style owes heavily to the decorating greats, but I combine elements in a way that feels fresh to me and, hopefully, conveys a sense of humor.”

MODERN TOILE WALLPAPER

If you want your toile wallpaper to pop, pair it with colorful wainscoting. This setup from Jenni Yolo masters the look.

DECONSTRUCTED PALM WALLPAPER

For a relaxed, beachy vibe without being too literal, try Serena Dugan's Bahia wallpaper. The designer was inspired by the tropical climes of Brazil.

MOD WALLPAPER

Want to take a walk down memory lane? Ghislaine Viñas used this righteously retro wallpaper from Flavor Paper. By sticking to a high-contrast color combo, Viñas gave this room a cool, mod edge.

STARBURST WALLPAPER

Instead of adding a backsplash to your home bar, take a cue from designer Traci Connell and opt for a statement-making wallpaper.

FLOOR-TO-CEILING WALLPAPER

Want your wallpaper to do double duty? Add a whimsical print to your walls and ceiling à la Dennis Brackeen.

ACCENT WALLPAPER

As this living room from Contour Interior Design by Nina Magon proves, a wallpapered accent wall can have the same effect as a large-scale piece of art.

CEILING WALLPAPER

Take your design to new heights—literally—by adding some wallpaper overhead. Chicago-based designer Joy Williams masters the look with a coordinating front door and trim.

LINED WALLPAPER

Tired of vertical stripes? The bumpy lined option that GRT Architects chose for this Fort Greene, Brooklyn, townhouse is a dainty yet stylish alternative.

HIGH-CONTRAST FLORAL WALLPAPER

Nowadays, florals may not be particularly groundbreaking. Interior designer Lauren Lowe gave this go-to pattern an edgy twist, however, by deploying it in a high-contrast color palette.

CITRUS WALLPAPER

Quintece Hill-Mattauszek of Studio Q brings the great outdoors inside with this citrus-inspired pattern. The result? A bar cart that appeals to all the senses.

GOLDEN WALLCOVERING

In a luxury Gramercy Park apartment, the dining room's golden wallcovering is by de Gournay, the chandelier is a custom design, and the 1950s mirror is by Lobmeyr.

BLUE FLORAL WALLPAPER

An antique floral wallpaper design makes a statement in the bathroom of designer Katie Ridder's townhouse. The sink is custom-made and is flanked by antique sconces.

GREENERY-INSPIRED WALLPAPER

In typical California fashion, this Mill Valley home is nature-inspired from the color palette to the decor. The kitchen features a gorgeous leafy wallpaper design by Pierre Frey, accented by some real greenery on the dining table.

ABSTRACT FLORAL WALLPAPER

In Christina Juarez' colorful home, the custom kitchen island has a Carrara marble top, the pendants and floor lamp are by Tom Dixon, and the barstools are by CB2; the bar cart is by Homenature, and the Sam Still artwork above it hangs on a wall covered in a Madeline Weinrib wallpaper; the antique birthing chair is from New Orleans.

FABRIC WALLPAPER

Also in Christina Juarez' apartment, the walls and vintage sofa in the home office are covered in an Elizabeth Hamilton fabric from John Rosselli. The vintage chair and pillows are in a Madeline Weinrib ikat, the elephant stool is by Pier 1 Imports, the side table is by CB2, and the rug is by Serena & Lily. An Oberto Gili photograph, anchors artworks by Oscar de la Renta (top left) and Donald Robertson (top center).

WOODLAND WALLPAPER

In the guest bath of a Los Angeles home, a chair is upholstered in the California state flag, the sink and fittings are by Waterworks, the custom wallcovering is by Nathalie Lété, and the door is painted in Farrow & Ball's Studio Green.

GEOMETRIC WALLPAPER

It's no surprise that wallpaper and textile maven Kate Reynolds's Brooklyn home is filled with extraordinary wallcoverings. The dining room features a fun geometric design by Brian Paquette, which is beautifully complemented by an authentic Moroccan rug.

BLACK AND WHITE MOTIF WALLPAPER

Inside a Palm Springs home, the guest room's eye-catching wallpaper is a Kelly Wearstler design, punctuated by Frank Gehry drawings and a sleek black chair by Donghia.

LIVING ROOM LAYOUT

KEEP IT SIMPLE

As Shawn Henderson's upstate New York home proves, you don't need a complex layout to make your living room feel special. Here, he creates a simple yet striking setup with a Kaare Klint sofa, a Kerstin Hörlin-Holmquist armchair, and a cocktail table by Frits Henningsen.

THROUGH THE LOOKING GLASS

If you want to create the illusion of indoor-outdoor living, place all of your seats right next to your window. In Amanda Gunawan's Los Angeles loft, a CB2 sectional and her Charles and Ray Eames chair get the sun-drenched treatment.

INDOOR-OUTDOOR LIVING

When you're decorating for an indoor-outdoor lifestyle, it's often best to keep your living room furnishings to a minimum. By restricting a lounge area to one side of the room, the owners of this South African bungalow maintained a clear pathway to the terrace and didn't have to sacrifice their sweeping vistas.

SECTION IT OFF

In his small West Chelsea studio in Manhattan, Charlie Ferrer used a wall-to-wall sectional in a corner to create the illusion of a designated living room.

STYLE SHAKE-UP

In his Milan apartment, Emiliano Salci of Dimorestudio shook up the conventional living room layout by placing the Dimoremilano table at one end of his vintage Vico Magistretti sofa.

CONVERSATION- SPARKING SEATS

In this Tel Aviv penthouse loft, architect Alex Meitlis and artist Ivo Bisignano placed the Indian rosewood sofas and armchairs—all of Meitlis's own design—in a classic formation so that everyone can join in the conversation.

TALLY UP THE TABLES

In most living room layouts, the best seat is often the one that has an optimal vantage point and easy access to a side table. But as the living room of this Los Angeles mansion designed by Cliff Fong proves, there's strength in numbers. With plenty of seating options—and accompanying tables—every seat can be the best seat in the house.

MOUNTAIN VIEW LIVING ROOM

Touches of calming blues and layers of texture featured in a Mountain View home by Regan Baker Design.

FORMAL BUT WELCOMING

A formal living room with colorful furniture and art by Elizabeth Krueger Design.

CHIC & MINIMALIST

A Brooklyn Heights living room with interior design by Fearins | Welch Interior Design and architecture by CWB Architects.

MAKING GRAYS POP

A colorful Uptown New Orleans family room by Eclectic Home.

ECLECTIC STYLING

A contemporary light-filled living room with modern art and copious seating by Sig Bergamin.

ELEGANT PASTELS

Contemporary pastel pieces make for a serene design statement by Amy Lau Design.

SPLITTING IMAGE

If you don't want your living room to feel too coordinated, check out this space in Santa Monica, California. Designer Natasha Baradaran gives the conventional symmetrical layout an unexpected twist by placing the Egg Collective sofa directly across from the Anne Hauck chairs.

LIGHT-FILLED DESIGN

Sculptural wood tables complement leather side chairs and a gray upholstered sofa in a Massachusetts living room design crafted by Found Design Studio.

MODERN FARMHOUSE

The perfect modern farmhouse living room by Tom Stringer Design Partners.

NEW YORK RETREAT

An 18th-century sofa covered in a Fabricut fabric faces a wardrobe custom made from reclaimed wood and a Queen Anne corner chair in the bedroom of this Woodstock, NY home; the rug is vintage, the walls are painted in a custom C2 Paint color, and the ceiling and floors are of reclaimed wood.

SMALL BEDROOM IDEAS THAT ARE BIG ON STYLE

At first glance, decorating a small bedroom can seem quite limiting. When square footage is at a premium, it can feel as if you have only so many room layouts and furniture pieces to choose from. But whether you're transforming a cozy attic into a spare bedroom or carving out some space in your studio apartment, you may find that a small bedroom has unlimited potential—you just need to get creative. For inspiration, browse through these 72 standout ideas. From textured touches to creative uses of traditionally overlooked nooks, these rooms prove that petite spaces can be big on style.

BOLD PRINTED BEDROOM

In the compact guest bedroom of a London townhouse, hotelier and designer Kit Kemp used a black-and-white Brunschwig & Fils toile de Jouy for the walls, canopy, pillows, and bedding, adding texture while maintain a clean, monochromatic color scheme. The artwork is by Dick Bixby, and the faux-shagreen table is Kemp's own design.

CLOSE QUARTERS

Earthy tones make two New York designers' Marrakech riad feel cozy rather than cramped. The master bedroom's rug was found in a souk. The bed is dressed with a blanket and linens by Matteo and pillow shams by Libeco, the floor lamps are by Lilah Spirit, and the drawing is by Raffone.

BRIGHT, AIRY BEDROOM

An intimate guest room in the poolhouse of a 19th-century farmhouse contains a John Himmel bed dressed in Schweitzer Linen bedding, a Swedish painted chest and a rug by Restoration Hardware; the matchstick Roman shades are custom.

SLEEK ALCOVE BED

Tucked into a tidy alcove in Steven Gambrel's Art Deco apartment, this custom bed is upholstered in a Zimmer + Rohde fabric, while the houndstooth pillows are in a Holland & Sherry fabric, and the 1950s sconces are by Ignazio Gardella.

FABRIC-COVERED GUEST BEDROOM

In Brazilian architect and designer Sig Bergamin's Paris home, an 18th-century fabric fragment hangs above the guest-room bed. The chair is Indian and the wall is upholstered in a cotton by Fabricut.

POSTER BED IN PARIS

In the guest bedroom of a Paris apartment, the custom forged-iron bed frame is finished in gold leaf and is dressed with pillows in Robert Normand and Lelièvre fabrics. The light fixture is a 1940 plaster bird sculpture, and the curtains are of a Pierre Frey chintz and Dedar fabric.

LOFTED BEDROOM

In Ninni Ryott's diminutive rural cabin, a tiny sleeping loft is fitted with a bedside stool from Åhléns, and the white linseed-oil paint on the walls is by Kulturhantverkarna Färg.

STATEMENT WALL

In a guest room in a sunny bungalow on the Adriatic coast, a purple accent wall takes center stage along with a headboard designed from a woven screen from Burundi. Adding to the interesting textiles in the space are a bedcover of a West African kente cloth and an Indonesian floor mat.

BALANCED BEDROOM

Retail guru Jeffrey Kalinsky's West Village townhouse maximizes the impression of space by keeping the use of color low to the floor in the master bedroom. A bed by Christopher Ostafin and a 1990s bench by Campion Platt fill out the space along with a circa-1950 chair by Illum Wikkelso from Hostler Burrows.

THE HIGH LIFE

An incredibly tall canopy in gray linen with Samuel & Sons trim highlights the vertical space in the master bedroom of this renovated 400-square-foot East Village apartment. The coverlet is in a Miles Redd fabric for Schumacher, and the carpet is by Stark.

WARM WHITE BEDROOM

The beam-ceilinged master bedroom of Amanda Seyfried's rustic Catskills retreat includes a Restoration Hardware bed, a bench from Gilt, and a rug from ABC Carpet & Home. The pendant light is by &tradition, and the beadboard walls are painted in Ammonite by Farrow & Ball.

BOLD, GRAPHIC BEDROOM

For a graphic punch that's still playful, one petite bedroom of this kid-friendly Manhattan duplex features a bed by DucDuc and a womb chair by Knoll. The futuristic pendant light is by Kartell, the map decal is by DeZign With a Z and the felt rug is by Patterson Flynn Martin.

WOOD-WALLED BEDROOM

For a Silicon Valley family's woodland retreat—sans the rustic implications of a cabin in the woods—architect Cynthia Wang and designer Jamie Bush conjured a completely new take on the country house that brings urban cool to Sierra, Nevada. The minimally-decorated bedrooms feature built-in wooden closets and a desk to keep from eating into the floorspace with hefty furnishings.

DRAMATIC CURTAINS

Designer Alessandra Branca went for a Moroccan-inspired guest bedroom in a 1910s mansion in Chicago. Window coverings and bed curtains in a custom Bennisson fabric add to the room's cocoon-like feel. The George IV bedside table features inlaid brass and mother-of-pearl, and the table lamp is late-19th-century English.

VIBRANT HUES

In a prewar New York City apartment, a rich sapphire wall accentuates the expansiveness of a relatively small master. Osborne and Little's butterfly pattern upholstery—seen on the lampshades and chair—inspired the bedroom's overall color scheme. The custom headboard in a Schumacher fabric is flanked by hand-painted vintage Korean chests; the settee at the end of the bed is vintage and custom upholstered.

BOLD STRIPES

For entertainment executive Kent Belden's Hamptons guest bedroom, designer Brigette Romanek incorporated a black-and-white-striped accent wall, a Poltrona Frau bed, and a B&B Italia nightstand.

LAYER YOUR LIGHTING

Up your small bedroom's cozy factor with warm, layered lighting. In a Madrid bedroom, designer Isabel López-Quesada paired a reading scone with a classic table lamp.

SITTING PRETTY

If you want to enjoy your small bedroom beyond those eight glorious sleeping hours, add a perch. For his room with a view in Milan, Dimorestudio's Emiliano Salci placed this small chair in front of his bedroom's casement window.

A BOLD BED

Just because your bedroom is small doesn't mean it has to be boring. San Francisco-based designer Antonio Martins added an 18th-century Portuguese Bilros bed to this guest room in his home. While the intricate carved posts are eye-catching, the negative space of the canopy keeps the room from feeling claustrophobic.

THE DARK SIDE

Contrary to popular belief, dark colors can make a small space appear larger. Colony's Jean Lin used a deep, inky blue in this travel-inspired apartment.

PUSH THE LIMITS

In this Bay Area abode, Nicole Hollis made the most of this small children's bedroom by pushing the custom-designed bunk beds and cabinets up against facing walls.

WONDER WALL

Want to make a real statement in your small bedroom? Swap out an accent wall for a serene mural, as designer Nebihe Cihan did in this London apartment.

TEXTURED TREATMENT

Transform your small bedroom from crammed to cozy with a hefty dose of texture. In this apartment on Manhattan's Park Avenue, designer Samuel Amoia used plaster panels to create the illusion of suede walls.

POWER COMBO

In his French weekend home, the late designer François Catroux turned the main bedroom into a serene oasis by juxtaposing warm neutrals with a splash of blue. This space features a custom bed draped in Bernard Thorp fabric and collages by Yves Saint Laurent.
